Recently I have attended the LingvoLink English language course. I would like to point out some pros and cons of studying there.

Timetable.

At the beginning of the course we were given a timetable, which we had for the whole course. It was convenient, nobody had any problems with it.

the quality of teaching.

The course itself was very interesting. The teachers knew what they were talking about, they could answer any question.

Textbooks.

The books, which were given to us by the teachers, were very informative, educative, bright coloured and had various topics. Also, we had access to the library, where we could get all kinds of literature.

Technological equipment.

In the booklet there was information that all the classrooms were technologically advanced. This statement proves not to be the truth. There was only one class, where we used computers, which were really old; sometimes they wouldn't work.

Dining facilities.

The cafe, where all the students ate, was one of the best places on the whole campus. ~~It was~~ The interior was amazing, the food was tasty. The only down side is that it was very expensive to get full dinner there. Some students simply couldn't afford to eat there.

As a conclusion, I would recommend to get modern equipment and to reduce prices at the cost. However, the course itself is very interesting and educational.
