2. Use direct and/or indirect speech;
3. Describe feelings and emotions;
4. Make an unexpected ending;
5. Use the following words at least once:

(underline the word from the list when using it for the first time)

- play truant
- cheat sheet
- detention
- dunce
- terrific

Write 220 - 250 words.

Never cheat!

If only could I know how many problems cheating would cause!
Last Monday our English teacher said that we would have a test on Tuesday. A cold feeling of shock gripped me. I understood I ~~could~~ would not be able to get prepared as I absolutely did not have time! So I wrung my hands in despair, <sup>because</sup> I had no ideas how to pass that test. Trying to forget about strong detention I was roaming around the school, when my classmate told me there were all the answers to the test! Our teacher had forgot them on the table! We took a photo of answers and told our mates about it.

On Tuesday every student had a cheat sheet with correct (as we thought) answers. Without any hesitation, we all managed to copy answers. We were happy that we would get high marks in so easy way.

However, on ~~Thursday~~ Friday our teacher was so angry! He said with a terrific voice, "You all have Failed your test! Nobody has passed my check. You are cheaters and nothing more!" Eventually we understood that he had left those answers just to check if we were honest people or not.

I feel that I made a mistake. I don't mean mistakes in the test. The biggest mistake was to cheat and to convince my friends that it was a good idea! I ~~feel~~ think I should have said sorry to my teacher and to all my classmates.

I have learned my lesson. I will never cheat again. Except tomorrow, as we <sup>are</sup> ~~are~~ having a maths exam.
