Writing

You have 60 minutes to complete the task.

Write a short story based on an episode from school life

In your story:

- 1. Follow the rules of short story writing;*
- 2. Use direct and/or indirect speech;*
- 3. Describe feelings and emotions;*
- 4. Make an unexpected ending;*
- 5. Use the following words at least once:*

(underline the word from the list when using it for the first time)

- play truant*
- cheat sheet*
- detention*
- dunce*
- terrific*

Write 220 - 250 words.

It was shortly before the summer holidays, the day of the final exam. I was very frightened and nervous. If I don't pass this exam I won't have the ~~chance~~ chance to go to college, so this day was really important to me.

But then something really unexpected happened. I will tell you.

When the exam started I felt terrific. It felt like I don't know anything and I was sure that I would fail this test. I tried to concentrate and looked at my watch. It showed half past eleven. Suddenly I remembered. I remembered the date which I had to write into the gap of my History Exam. From now on, every time I looked at my watch I remembered something: a date, the name of a king, a city. It was great. I relaxed and finished first.

"It's unfair!", suddenly a class mate of ~~my~~ mine cried. "She used a cheat sheet!" The teacher looked at him with detection: "How can you say things like this? Not everyone is such a dunce like you." The student looked at him angrily. "Come on, don't play truant", was ^(the teacher's) his only response. "I'm not a dunce!", the student shouted and ran away.

Some weekes later the results came. When I came to school to pick up my documents my teacher stoped me and said that someone wants to speak to me. It was the professor of an very popular university in America. "You scored best", he said. "Congratulation! I think it was a good idea to use this special watch. It is a great invention. I would like to invite you to study at our university. Not everyone has such a brilliant imagination".

I never thought that it would end like this. I was very surprised. I still am, many years later.
