2. Use direct and/or indirect speech;
3. Describe feelings and emotions;
4. Make an unexpected ending;
5. Use the following words at least once:

(underline the word from the list when using it for the first time)

- play truant
- cheat sheet
- detention
- dunce
- terrific

Write 220 - 250 words.

The best day of my life.

Everyone loves holidays. And of course, no one likes to study during ^{on} the holidays. So my friends and I played truant and did absolutely nothing during the whole week when we were supposed to revise for our Maths test.

But then suddenly it dawned on us that it ~~was~~ ^{had been} the last day of holidays and we weren't ready for the test at all.

'What will we do?' I asked, feeling the panic growing inside my chest. I should explain that our Maths teacher was extremely ^{severe} strict.

and the test was going to be ^{extremely} really difficult, almost impossible to write without the revision.

One of my friends told us that making cheat sheets had been the only way to avoid detention. 126

'Of course we don't want to get a detention, but if Mr Brown catches us cheating, he'll be terrific' replied another friend who seemed to be really scared of Mr Brown. 'And we'll get a detention anyway.'

But we decided to try and each of us made cheat sheets the night before the test.

The next day we were surprised to see Mr Brown so cheerful and relaxed. It seemed that he had spent his holidays wonderfully.

One of the girls asked him whether he had gone somewhere during the holidays, and he told us he had spent a week in Italy.

~~His~~ Mr Brown's joyful mood made us feel a bit relieved but I still felt ^{was} terrified of the test.

When the lesson began, we understood that Mr Brown had forgotten about the test, or he just hadn't ~~not~~ ~~having~~ had any desire to get ready for it himself. 275

It was the best day of my life! 278
