Writing

You have 60 minutes to complete the task.

Write a short story based on an episode from school life

In your story:

1. Follow the rules of short story writing;
2. Use direct and/or indirect speech;
3. Describe feelings and emotions;
4. Make an unexpected ending;
5. Use the following words at least once:

(underline the word from the list when using it for the first time)

- play truant
- cheat sheet
- detention
- dunce
- terrific

Write 220 - 250 words.

Lost cheat sheet
Once my form-master told us that we would have one cumulative exam at the end of the week. My classmate and I decided to combine our efforts in pursuing one goal - to pass the exam successfully, because most of us are convinced that it's unacceptable for today's students to play truant from lessons, to be placed on detention and be a dunce.

Thus, we stayed after school to work, according to the proverb: "no pains, no gains". I should have mentioned before that we kept a parrot in a cage in our class, who had been taught by our teacher to utter some quotations from various authors. We solved plenty of challenging tasks, and had a terrific time so far. Suddenly, we came to the conclusion that we couldn't do without cheat sheets. Once I had finished my own one, mum called me and asked: "Do you have any idea what time it is? It's about the time you came home!" I ~~im~~ quickly began to pack up, ~~but~~ then glanced at the cage and decided to change water for our pet before leaving. The exam day came and I couldn't find my cheat sheet. Despitethis I still did well on the exam. However, the thought about my cheat sheet was on my mind. That day I heard our parrot, repeating his favourite ~~ph~~ phrase: "Learning is the eye of the mind." Then it immediately occurred to me to look in the cage. Guess what I saw there? It was my cheat sheet torn to ~~the~~ hundreds of tiny little pieces.
