It has been a terrific but yet fascinating day to remember. I'm sure, my friends and I will never forget this experience. And now I'll tell you why.

That hot summer day started like an ordinary day of 16-years old girl. I got up, did all my morning routine and went to see my best friend Julia at her house. There has already been the whole crew of the other friends of mine: Alex, Katy and Scott. We wanted to organize a small party but first, there was breakfast.

After eating a great amount of pancakes, we all started getting bored to the bones. As we ~~couldn't~~ had no idea of what to do next I even thought that we all just would just go home. But suddenly, someone broke the silence. "Why don't we go and explore our local lake? It has been closed for 5 years, so maybe it's time to do something illegal?" said Katy. Her suggestion was a success I could see everyone's broaden smile. Fortunately, the day was perfect for outdoor activities. "We'll have a whale of time!" said I but now, I wouldn't be so convinced.

The only ~~pro~~ problem was that the lake was too far from our neighborhood, ~~so~~ but we didn't have a car, so going there by bicycles was our only option. We didn't tell our parents about the trip because they wouldn't let us go. That's it, this is how my worst nightmare ~~it~~ began.

At first, everything was like a dream but sooner or later, it had to go wrong, right? When we were on a half way it started pouring with rain, which was such a settling feeling. Then Alex fell down in a hall and ~~was~~ injured his leg. We tried to help him but it didn't work out. All we managed to do is to change our plans immediately.

Our ~~rest~~ route back was ~~too~~ really tough. We were run out of energy and so devastated that we got back home in one piece - cold, drenched, but having learnt an important lesson.
