

On 18th February English for You language school is coming to our university! Meet a representative from the school and find out more about this year's summer course and Hastings, the charming seaside town where the school is based. That's right - this summer you have the chance to study English in beautiful England!
All are welcome!

